Margarine Ban Up For Supreme Court Decision

OTTAWA (CP)—The cabinet has referred the question of the ban against oleomargarine to the Supreme Court of Canada for a test of its validity, it was announced today.

The Justice Department said the government had passed an order-in-council to that effect. It meets a request by the Senate, which passed a resolution moved by Senator W. D. Euler, Lib., Ontario, long-standing critic of the ban against the butter substitute.

Liberal Party Still Bulwark, Says St. Laurent

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister St. Laurent is more resolute than ever to go before the Liberal convention as a candidate for leadership of the party and accept its decision, his office said here today.

In a statement authorized by Mr. St. Laurent but not quoting him directly, the external affairs minister's office said he did not feel that the party should be discouraged by the results of Wednesday's general election in Quebec.

The statement was issued after the minister, now in Quebec City, had telephoned his office.

PARTY IS BULWARK

"The minister," it said, "is more resolute than ever to go before the convention as a candidate for the leadership and accept from the delegates their decision."

"Mr. St. Laurent said that the Liberal Party need not be discouraged by the results of the election in Quebec."

"Mr. St. Laurent feels that the Liberal Party is still the bulwark against socialism in Canada and as times become more difficult, all Liberals must redouble their efforts."

Ottawa Observers At Newfoundland Return To Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—A party of Canadian observers, headed by R. A. MacKay of the Commonwealth section of the External Affairs Department, returned to Ottawa from Newfoundland Wednesday night and will report to the cabinet today.

It was understood they will report a softening of anti-Confederation feeling among responsible government supporters, bolstering a growing conviction here that Canada will proceed with negotiations to bring the island into the Dominion as a 10th province.

A spokesman for the External Affairs Department said the next step would be for the Governor of Newfoundland to notify the British and Canadian governments officially the results of the referendum. Canada will probably then signify her willingness to open negotiations with a delegation from Newfoundland to work out a constitutional procedure.

Probable Record Vote Cast At Quebec Polls Wednesday

QUEBEC (CP)—Quebec electors probably cast a record vote in the general election Wednesday. With 15 per cent of the polls still to report, the total was only 80,000 short of the record of 1,330,059 set in 1944 when Quebec women voted for the first time.

Complete returns in many constituencies and almost complete returns in the others give the line-up in the new Legislative Assembly as follows: Union Nationale, 82; Liberals, 8; C.C.F.,

Senator Euler contends the ban is not constitutional. The court will now have to decide.

The critics of the ban say it was originally based on the dangers to health that were inherent in the margarine of the Confederation era. However, they argue, since those dangers have been removed, it no longer is a federal responsibility and should revert to the provinces.

DECISIONS BY PROVINCES

If the Supreme Court upholds that view, it will mean the thorny problem of whether to allow the cheaper commodity in to challenge butter is thrown into the laps of the individual provinces. That is the situation in the United States.

The current ban prohibits the importation, manufacture or sale of margarine. It is based on the Dairy Industry Act, a federal statute. It goes well back into the 19th century and has only once been broken—during a butter shortage after the First World War.

Margarine Move Seen As Result Of Newfoundland Vote

VANCOUVER (CP)—Decision to refer the margarine ban to the Supreme Court of Canada is a result of the Newfoundland referendum, James Sinclair, Liberal member of Parliament for North Vancouver, said today.

He was commenting on the announcement that the controversial oleomargarine question would be referred to the Supreme Court for a ruling on its constitutional validity.

Mr. Sinclair has long contended the ban against importing the product was improper. In the last session he introduced a bill lifting the restriction, but it failed to get third reading.

"Newfoundland manufactures and uses margarine," he said, "and she insisted on retaining the right to manufacture it if she joined the Dominion."

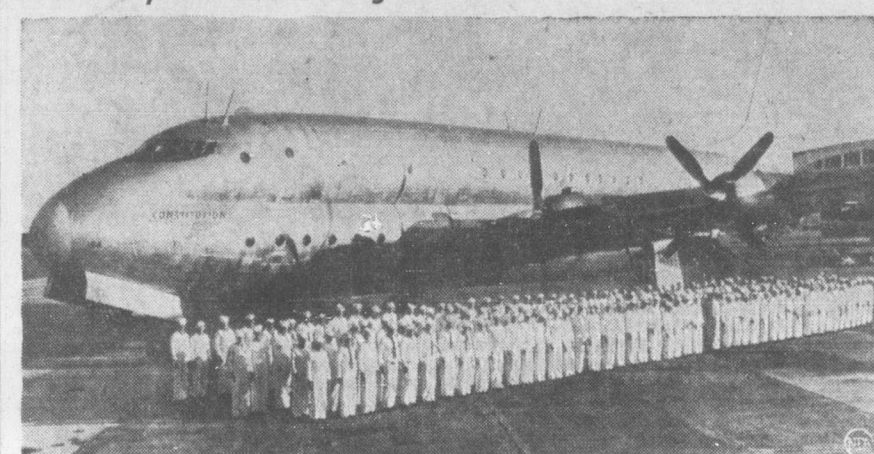

"The government couldn't very well observe one rule for Newfoundland, and another for the rest of Canada."

U.S. Sub To Visit Victoria Aug. 12-14

U.S. Navy Gets Its Largest Plane

The giant ship had just spanned the continent from Oakland, Calif., in 10 hours and 20 minutes. The plane, now in Philadelphia, will participate in the International Air Exposition at New York's Idlewild Airport.

Accused In Murder Hearing Quoted As Saying 'Wife Fell On Knife'

The preliminary hearing of Jacob E. Wied, charged with murder, was adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning by Magistrate H. C. Hall in Police Court today. Wied is accused of the knife-slaying of his wife, Evelyn, who died as the result of a wound in Jubilee Hospital, July 17.

The preliminary hearing was adjourned after Constable A. Appleton had told the court what the accused had told police on the day of his arrest.

Constable Appleton said the accused told him in the presence of Detective Alex Briggs that his wife had fallen on a knife. Earlier, before the arrival of Detective Briggs, the witness said the accused admitted that he had a quarrel with his wife.

"When I first asked Wied what had happened, the accused replied that he didn't know," testified the police constable.

"I told him he should know what had happened and asked him if there had been a quarrel," he said. "To this the accused replied that there had been a quarrel."

Constable Appleton quoted the accused as saying: "Yes, there was. Just like any other married people. Just a little argument. They don't mean anything you know."

Andrew Clarke Thomas, 2525 Wark Street, said he had known the Wieds for five or six years and that on the night of July 16 they were at his home.

DRINKING PARTY

"There was drinking and the Wieds were quarrelling. They always quarrel when they are drinking," he said. He testified Wied suddenly left the house and Mrs. Wied stayed there the night.

Mr. Thomas said the Wieds met again the next day and that at 11.30 the three of them went to the Tillium Club and stayed there drinking until about 5 in the afternoon.

While Mrs. Wied stayed at the club, witness said he and Wied left and parted company at Johnson and Government Streets.

"I telephoned him between 5.30 and 6 and asked him if he was coming over," Mr. Thomas said, and got a reply from Mr. Wied that he was going to bed and have a sleep.

Witness said he asked accused: "How are you getting along with Evelyn?"

"He replied 'fine; we shook hands and everything is all right,'" Thomas said the next he heard from Wied was about 11 that night when accused, by phone, asked him to secure a lawyer as he was being held at the police station.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Sinnott, witness said the relationship between the Wieds was good "when they are not drinking."

He said that while they were in the club on the 17th Mrs. Wied had considerable to drink. She was drinking beer.

Witness said he had seen Mrs. Wied under the influence many times and spoke of the quarrels which came up.

"I heard her threaten to use a knife on Jake," Thomas said, but replied in the negative to the question as to whether he ever heard her talk about suicide.

DOCTORS' EVIDENCE

Doctors George Bisset and Ross McNeely gave evidence pertaining to cause of death and description of the four-inch deep wound. Severing of two large blood veins had caused the fatal hemorrhage.

Mr. Sinnott persisted in his questions as to why the severed arteries had not been tied up.

Dr. McNeely said brown stains on articles of clothing, male and female, and on newspapers were human blood of B group. Deceased woman's blood was of that group, he said. He said there were traces of human blood on the knife put in as an exhibit, also hairs. Both doctors

18 Die In Crash Of Flying Boat At Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Maritime police said 18 persons were killed today and four were injured in the crash-landing of a flying boat.

Alafa Airlines, Argentine operators of the four-engined plane, said 18 passengers and five crew members were aboard when the ship left Rosario. One passenger escaped unhurt.

The plane apparently made a forced landing in the fog-bound Plate River.

Maritime police ordered divers to the scene to try to recover the bodies.

The accident occurred near the outskirts of Buenos Aires, about three miles northwest of Alafa's downtown landing port.

Reds Of Yugoslavia Re-elect Tito With All His Candidates

BELGRADE (AP)—Yugoslavia Communists today repudiated the Cominform's attacks on their leaders by electing Premier Tito and his entire list of candidates to the party's 63-member central committee.

Newspapers did not give the actual vote which took place at the close of the Yugoslav party's historic conference, and did not mention whether the voting was unanimous.

The Cominform, international Communist information bureau, had asked Yugoslav Communists to throw out Tito and his principal lieutenants. The Russian-led organization accused the Yugoslav leader of deviating from the Marxist line and pursuing a hateful policy toward Russia.

Speakers at the party congress said these accusations were false and unjust.

thought such a knife could have caused the wound.

Dr. McNeely said smear blood stains on a newspaper indicated it could have been used to wipe off the knife.

Irving Strickland, Times photographer, identified pictures of the wound in the body and at the scene as having been taken and developed by himself, including a basin on the floor with red-colored water in it.

HEARD QUARRELING

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Humble, Room 2 of the 1925 Yates Street rooming house, next door to the one occupied by the Wieds, told the court of hearing what appeared to be two people entering the Wied apartment separately around 5.30 on the evening of July 17.

They heard loud quarrelling voices, two screams—which Mrs. Humble described as "terrible"—followed by whimpering noises and the sounds of furniture being banged about. After learning a phone call shortly after was for Mr. Wied she went to his door, and after knocking twice accused came out and answered it.

Mrs. Humble said accused did not appear any different than usual, aside from looking sleepy. Accused had only opened the door enough to show his face when responding to her knocks, she said. Under cross-examination Mrs. Humble said Mrs. Wied appeared to be a good woman, cooked meals and washed dishes and handled other household duties.

Hushed House Hears Bevin Say Decision Reached In Few Days

Airpark Assured As Injunction Denied By Judge

Victoria is to have its Memorial Airpark.

Application for an injunction to halt clearing and leveling of the Gordon Head site of the Victoria Memorial Airpark Association's light plane landing field, sought by Ivan C. C. Tchaperoff, was denied today in a judgment handed down by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane. Co-defendant in the case was the City of Victoria.

In a four-day hearing in June, J. G. McIntosh, counsel for Mr. Tchaperoff argued that the construction of an airpark on land adjoining that of his client would depreciate the property, cause a nuisance by noise of aircraft, attract onlookers and create an accident hazard.

Mr. Justice Macfarlane said there was "nothing to support a claim for nuisance on facts as they exist at present." In answer to the plaintiff's claim that the agreement between the City of Victoria and the Memorial Airpark Association was ultra vires of the city, he said that Mr. Tchaperoff "has no status to attack the agreement."

The judgment also stated that no right of the plaintiff was being infringed upon. Mr. Tchaperoff had maintained that when he purchased land adjoining the airpark it was zoned for single family dwellings only.

In denying the injunction, Mr. Justice Macfarlane stated that "since no breach of duty has occurred, the court cannot grant an injunction to prevent the doing of something which is simply feared or apprehended."

WORK TO RESUME

W. A. Scott president of the Memorial Airpark Association, indicated following the decision that development of the airpark will resume as soon as plans can be made.

"It was the help we received from the progressive-minded citizens that finally won this drawn-out battle. We have the site, the equipment and trained personnel to establish the finest airpark on this continent. All we need is the help in organizing the community spirit to make this possible," he said.

U.S. Envoy Now In Moscow With Plans For Germany

BERLIN (AP)—Walter Bedell Smith, United States ambassador to Russia, arrived in Moscow today carrying plans for the Western Allies' next step toward settling the current German crisis.

He was accompanied by Frank Roberts, former British minister to Moscow.

Smith and the envoys of Britain and France are expected to make oral overtures to Foreign Minister Molotov for settlement of the German situation. The talks may embrace the entire European problem. Smith and Roberts had left tri-

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin today said the British government is considering a halt in demobilization of its armed forces because of the tension between Russia and the west.

He told a hushed House of Commons a decision will be reached "in a few days."

He held out hope that current diplomatic manoeuvres of Britain, the United States and France with Russia might determine whether there is a chance of ending the cold war, hottest at Berlin, which the Russians have blockaded for a month by land.

Bevin said the Labor government, in allowing British armed forces to be reduced at the rate of 20,000 a month, had not assumed "that the policy of our wartime allies would lead to a situation which might involve the use of force."

"The situation that has now arisen has, of course, compelled us to re-examine the whole position," he said. "I have not given up hope..."

Winston Churchill, wartime Prime Minister, pledged the Labor government the support of the Conservative opposition. He asked whether demobilization would be halted "until at least the Berlin situation is satisfactorily resolved."

LIMITS FOR TRAWLERS

80,000 See Olympic Games Opening; King Takes Salute

OLYMPIC STADIUM, WEMBLEY, (CP)—The XIV Olympiad was opened today by the King in the presence of 5,000 of the world's foremost athletes.

Dressed in the uniform of an admiral of the fleet, the King said: "I proclaim open the Olympic Games of London celebrating the 14th Olympiad of the modern era."

Brilliant sun drenched the athletes and almost 80,000 spectators packed into the big stadium.

As trumpets blared, 7,000 pigeons—Olympic symbols of peace—flew upwards, casting a variegated shadow over the athletes massed on the emerald green turf.

STUDENT BRINGS TORCH

The Olympic torch was borne into the stadium by John Mark, an athlete from Cambridge University. It reached the stadium on the last lap of its journey from Mt. Olympus, Greece, at 10.52 a.m., 15 minutes ahead of schedule.

After the formal opening words, the royal salute of 21 guns roared out, reverberating between the walls of the low stadium, filled nearly to its 84,000 capacity.

Even as the King spoke a French athlete collapsed from the heat—the temperature was 89—and a boy scout in the front ranks fell down.

Out of the tunnel to a great roar finally came the white-clad athlete carrying the flame.

Athletes broke ranks to run to the side of track for a better glimpse of the bright, sparkling torch.

BURNS TILL AUG. 14

The torch bearer ran up a ramp, held the flame aloft, and then touched off the fire in the great white bowl. It will burn until the games end Aug. 14.

They the Olympic hymn rang out.

Competition in this greatest of all games will start actively tomorrow, although water polo will be held tonight.

From 58 lands came the young men and women to participate in the solemn ceremonies.

For a solid hour the athletes paraded while the King stood stiffly at attention, saluting most of the time.

The big British and United States teams drew the loudest and most sustained applause.

CANADIANS CHEERED

There was a particularly loud cheer for the Canadian team. The Canadian girls looked most attractive with their white sailor hats.

Canada's athletes are competing in 11 of the 17 sports—track and field, wrestling, boxing, swimming, fencing, rowing, canoeing, yachting, weight-lifting, basketball and cycling. Experts concede them small chance of top honors except perhaps basketball.

Truman Asks Power To Return Prices To Nov., 1947, Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman asked today that the United States Congress give him power to roll back prices on essential cost-of-living items to the level of prices in November 1947 or the nearest "appropriate period."

Truman sent Paul Porter, former administrator of the Office of Price Administration, to the Capitol with details of what he wants.

The President had asked generally for anti-inflation powers in his message to the special session of Congress.

The President's proposals, in the form of a bill, proposes also limited powers between now and June 30, 1950, covering authority to ration a few products in short supply and some authority over wages in the manufacture of items put under price control.

Victoria Pianist Impresses Audience At Summer School

By RICHARD T. BEVAN

A large audience heard the Victoria pianist, Charles Palmer, in a recital Wednesday at Victoria High School, held under the auspices of the Summer School of Education.

Mr. Palmer's playing was characterized by strength and elegance and he conveyed to his audience the true message of the music unobstructed by mannerisms.

His interpretation of the Brahms "Variations on a Theme by Handel" impressed the audience by the unity of the work as a whole, yet at the same time each variation spoke for itself in its own voice as it were.

As a pleasing contrast to the Brahms selection, Mr. Palmer gave the fascinating "Sonatine" by Ravel.

A group of songs, sung by Marion Inglis Campbell, was warmly received. Three of the songs were well known to lovers of song literature and were all brought to life by Mrs. Campbell and Mr. Palmer, who each contributed to the satisfying ensemble. The songs were entitled "Weep Ye No More" (Dowland), "Come Unto These Yellow Sands" (Purcell), and "Oh Mistress Mine" (Warlock).

Sandwiched between these items was a delightful song, "The Mirror," composed by Mr. Palmer.

Boasted Of Life Of Luxury,
Kingston Fugitive Slain

PASCAGOULA, Miss. (CP)—Ulysses Lauzon, Canada's public enemy No. 1 in the postwar underworld, was bludgeoned before being shot to death and dumped unceremoniously beside a busy highway, Sheriff Guy Krebs said today.

The convicted bank robber who escaped Aug. 18, 1947, from the Kingston, Ont., penitentiary, was probably shot by criminal associates who "thought he double-crossed them in a divvy-up of spoils," the sheriff speculated.

But he said he had no idea who those associates were. Until photographs of Lauzon arrive from Canada, he said, investigations cannot make much headway.

"Once we get pictures, we'll have something to work with. We'll take them around the Gulf coast gangster hangouts. We'll find where he was staying and who he spent his time with."

"He'd been shot through the left temple and breast," the sheriff said, "but he'd been bludgeoned before he was shot."

"His right eye was badly bruised. Probably he was shot somewhere else and the body dumped out of a speeding car. There wasn't any blood where it was found."

The body was clad only in sports shirt and underwear shorts. Krebs said he noticed immediately that Lauzon's red hair had been dyed black.

"That's why I got really interested," said the sheriff.

Krebs said the spot where the body was found is "a regular dumping-ground for gang-killing victims." Three or four bodies have been found within 200 yards of the spot during the last decade, he said.

The body was found at the foot of an embankment on a heavily-traveled highway to New Orleans.

It had been there for some days when found, police said, perhaps since July 10 when an apparent gangland shooting was reported at Moss Point, Miss., some 25 miles north of here.

Since Aug. 18, 1947, Lauzon and his partners in the Kingston penitentiary escape, Donald (Mickey) McDonald and Nicholas Minille, had been sought in Canada and the United States.

1 NOW AT LARGE

Minille, 36-year-old Ottawa, had been accounted for. He is in custody in Oakland, Calif., awaiting extradition to Canada to finish serving a 17-year sentence for armed robbery. Only McDonald, 41, of Toronto, remains at large.

35-YEAR TERM

Lauzon, participant in the biggest bank robbery ever "pulled" in Canada—$351,000 at Bath, Ont., in August, 1945—for which he was serving a 35-year sentence when he escaped from Kingston, had boasted on his arrest that he had $300,000 hidden away and that he would live in luxury on the money. Whether he did may never be known.

Charge Of Murder
Laid In Stabbing
Of Ont. Bushworker

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Charles Wynn, 34-year-old cook, has been charged with murder in connection with the stabbing of Leo Neveu, 21, a bushworker at the Brompton Pulp and Paper Co. camp at Red Rock, Ont.

Wynn was charged late Wednesday, and today was on remand in custody until Aug. 5 at Fort William for hearing. Police said the slaying occurred after a dining-hall argument in which Wynn refused to give employees a second helping of bacon.

4 MEN ANNOYED

Reports from Red Rock a lumber centre 40 miles east of here, said that four men at the camp became annoyed when Wynn refused their protest for a second helping of bacon.

The men were alleged to have knocked the cook against the table and punched him in the face. Lying prone on the floor, Wynn is said to have seized a knife and made a sweeping gesture.

Neveu, who came to the camp from Quebec a month ago, staggered to the dining-room door, a broken knife sticking in his side. He reached railway tracks 15 feet away, stumbled and fell dead.

Unprecedented Victory Scored By Union Nationale At Quebec Polls

QUEBEC (CP)—Premier Duplessis' Union Nationale Party held undisputed power today in Quebec with the unprecedented following of 82 members in the 92-seat House.

The 12-year-old party, first elected in Quebec in a 1936 landslide that cut 39 years of Liberal administration, far outdid that performance Wednesday. The U.N.'s smashing victory shattered opposition ranks.

The standing was:

	1948	1944
Union Nationale.....	82	48
Liberals.....	8	37
Bloc Populaire.....	0	4
C.C.F.....	1	1
Nationale.....	1	1

Total.....92 91
(*Additional seat in 1948).

The Liberal opposition, which held 33 seats in the last Legislative Assembly, saw its leader, Adolphe Godbout, defeated in his own county of L'Islet.

GOT NO SEAT

The Union of Electors, Quebec third party, which contested all 92 provincial divisions also was swept aside without a seat and with J. Ernest Gregoire, its leader, beaten.

Guy-Merrill Desaulniers, heading a seven-man C.C.F. attempt for representation in the bilingual House, was toppled with his followers.

Gui L. Caron, 26-year-old Labor Progressive candidate and the only representative of his party among 310 candidates in the contest, met no success.

All this was Quebec's response to Premier Duplessis' cry that the affairs of the province have reached a grave point because its powers are the target of federal policy.

He stood on his party's four-year record in power; promised to defend Quebec rights to his last breath.

INDICATED QUICKLY

As the results started in shortly after 6:30 p.m., E.D.T., closing time for 9,417 polls through the vast expanse of Quebec, the trend of the vote became clear quickly. The Canadian Press announced a Union Nationale victory at 7:53 p.m.

Within three-quarters of an hour of poll closing Premier Duplessis' home-town win in Three Rivers with an ultimate majority of more than 12,000 was reported.

The Premier's 20 cabinet ministers lined up behind him as returning officers counted ballots that were expected to outnumber 1944's record total of 1,330,059.

Inquest May Clear
Up Mysteries Of
19-Year-Old Crime

CALGARY (CP)—Some of the mysteries surrounding the 19-year-old murder of Thomas Charles Hall, 66-year-old broker-teamster, are expected to be cleared up at an inquest into his death next Friday.

Date of the inquest was set

Thursday night by Coroner George R. Johnson.

Body of the slain man was found under the floor of a "spookridden" ramshackle cottage here July 10. Police say they believe he was killed in March, 1929.

One of the witnesses attending the inquest is expected to be F.L. John Hall, youngest son of the murdered man. The 34-year-old permanent officer in the R.C.A.F. was released from hospital earlier this week after suffering serious head injuries in a plane crash less than 48 hours after his father's body had been discovered.

DUPLESSIS ROMPS HOME

OVERWHELMING IS THE CORRECT term to describe the victory which Premier Maurice Duplessis and his Union Nationale government scored over the provincial Liberal Party in yesterday's Quebec general elections. Even leader of the opposition, former Premier Adélard Godbout, failed to retain his seat. In the next Legislature, indeed, the head of the government will be able to count a following of 82 out of a total membership of 92. By the reverse token, the Liberals will number eight, with the remaining two seats divided between a Nationalist and an Independent. Noteworthy, of course, is the disappearance of the ultra-nationalist group, which went by the name of the Bloc Populaire, recently operating as the Union des Electeurs or Social Credit, and the hopeless showing of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation.

What the provincial Liberals will say of the result when they conduct their post-mortem must remain in the realm of conjecture. What Mr. Mackenzie King and his ministerial colleagues fully familiar with the political scene in the Ancient Province will think of yesterday's verdict is something else altogether. The facts will not down. But it would seem to us that the personal participation in the campaign of several influential members of the Dominion cabinet may have had more to do with the virtual eclipse of Mr. Godbout's party than appears on the face of the result. After all, Mr. Duplessis was emphatic in his declaration that his fight was a provincial fight, to be fought out solely on provincial issues. That was why he warned that any "interference" by federal stalwarts might be bitterly resented by many. By this we take it he meant that the issues involved in the provincial election of July 28, 1948, bore no resemblance to those of October 25, 1939. Nor did they.

But the fact that Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, Postmaster-General Bertrand, Solicitor-General Jean, and other advocates of the federal Liberal cause like former Air Minister C. J. Power campaigned for Mr. Godbout—and apparently made relatively little impression on the voters of the province which they know so well—should not be taken as the least indication of the course of events to be expected in the Dominion political realm. Quebec is Quebec and its people are jealous of their provincial rights—regardless of all arguments emanating from Ottawa. But the great majority of its citizens are realists. Any other party which overestimates the national significance of yesterday's verdict, moreover, would be extremely unwise, the distribution of votes notwithstanding.

AS WAS EXPECTED

WHEN THE PRINCIPAL RAILWAY companies of Canada agreed to raise the wages of their employees a couple of weeks ago by 17 cents an hour—as the price of peace in the transportation world—it became apparent immediately that new demands for increased freight or other rates would certainly follow. What was anticipated has now occurred. The Railway Association of Canada has applied, specifically in behalf of the Canadian National Railway and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, for an increase of 20 per cent in freight carrying charges. In other words, the whole issue with which the public has grown familiar has bobbed up again in a more acute form than ever, and the end is not in sight.

What British Columbia is particularly concerned about, and to which its Coalition government should address itself assiduously, is the removal of the mountain differential. Recent reports indicate that action on this matter beneficial to the province may shortly be taken; but it stands to reason that, notwithstanding this prospect, any further upward trend in the cost of freight haulage must affect the national economy which involves every part of the Dominion. And it will not be surprising if the railway companies take the stand that they do not know what or when further wage demands will be made upon them when the agreement recently negotiated expires. None envies their position. And the persistent rise in the cost of living is the ever-present menace which hangs over the nation's breadwinners.

On the wide aspect of the main issue of freight rates, apart from British Columbia's valid case against the continuance of the mountain differential, Premier Garson of Manitoba published a potent statement last week in which he said, among other things, it had been suggested that the 17-cent-an-hour wage increase for railway employees had knocked "the case of the seven provincial Premier into a cocked hat"—a contention which he resolutely refutes, and adds:

"On the contrary, the wage increase makes it all the more essential that the principles and facts underlying the decision to raise the freight rates by 21 per cent should be thoroughly reviewed. What the seven Premiers have said is that the 21 per cent increase in freight rates was not justified by the facts and evidence submitted by the railways before the Board of Transport Commissioners in regard to 1947 operations, and what they warned against was that if this 21 per cent increase were permitted to stand on the inadequate evidence and the unsatisfactory judgment in support of it, then any further increase in railway operating costs, such as a further wage increase, would become the foundation for an application by the railways for a further rate increase.

"While the railways' 21 per cent increase perhaps can now be justified by the 17 cents an hour wage increase, it cannot be justified and should not be permitted to stand on the strength of the inadequate case made by the railways before the Transport Board. This is the nub of this whole matter which the seven Premiers have been emphasizing. For if the 21 per cent increase in freight rates stands as being supported by the Board's order, then the present wage increase almost automatically becomes the basis for a new application by the railways for a further substantial increase in freight rates over and above the 21 per cent increase now in effect."

There the matter rests—as predicted by Manitoba's Premier. His contention, by the way, can be set against that advanced by the Montreal Star, which regards the whole problem as a case of "simple addition." The oversimplification here is that the more paid out in wages, the greater the cost of operation. All of which is true.

EYES ON WEMBLEY

BEFORE SOME 80,000 SPECTATORS who crowded into Wembley Stadium for the opening ceremonies of the first postwar Olympic Games, the athletes of 59 competing nations today took the Olympic oath, heard the quadrennial event declared open by the King and prepared for the contests which will determine the leading performers of the amateur sports world. Not all admissible nations were represented. Some were absent for technical reasons, others because of ideological considerations. But for all practical purposes the assembly of participants took on the character of the physical top-flight of the world's youth.

Each will strive for supremacy in the particular event for which he or she has trained arduously. That is the goal to which all will aspire and few can attain. But in a broader sense, that will be merely one facet of a more impressive experience. For all who take part, the games will furnish an opportunity to know a little better the young men and young women of other countries. It will give them the chance to weigh their merits and appreciate their skills. And, short-sighted critics to the contrary, it will provide for them a field from which may grow that understanding which is an integral part of the structure of peace.

Already, of course, some of the frictions which these events produce have received wide publicity. An Italian sports writer has been barred admission. His case got headline display. But it must be remembered that he was merely one of 600 sports writers who were assigned to cover the games. The remainder will take their places in the press box. More disagreements may be expected. If there has been no Eleanor Holm case, or if an embroglio fails to develop between football or water polo teams, there will be other incidents. With enthusiasms honed to a razor's edge, with athletes and managers keyed to the sharp pitch of competitive tension, disputes cannot be wholly avoided. But in these events, as in their predecessors, the predominance of good sportsmanship will be apparent, even if some discordance should take the limelight.

This, then, is the atmosphere into which the Canadian team, with its goody representation of Victorians, stepped today. They, too, despite the disinclination of some of them to appreciate British austerity, will give a good account of themselves, win or lose. And they, like all who attend either as competitors or spectators, cannot help but appreciate the tremendous achievement attained by the host country in staging the Games in the face of the heartbreaking shortages and difficulties under which Britain labors in this year of grace.

PROOF OF THE PUDDING

ON PREVIOUS OCCASIONS IN THESE columns and elsewhere on this page, analyses have been published to indicate the excellent standards set by returned service men and women in scholastic achievement. Before actual records became available, the question had been raised as to the abilities of these young men and women to readjust themselves in the scholastic groove and progress at least normally. The opinion was held in some quarters that the disruption of war, the wide variety of experiences—many of them destructive—and the hiatus in study habits would work to the detriment of those returning to class when they laid their uniforms aside.

An analysis made by the authorities at Victoria College proved those misgivings groundless in the vast majority of cases. The veteran, with greater maturity and a clearer idea of objective, tackled the academic job in earnest and actually established a record superior to that of the younger civilian student. These matters are recalled to furnish background for the gratifying report recently presented by Mr. Walter S. Woods, Deputy Minister of Veterans' Affairs, relative to the Canadian ex-servicemen. In his words:

"I said in public three years ago that the veteran would be a problem child, that he would be normal and a little above average because of his war experience. That view has been completely vindicated. He shows no tendency to lean on the state. He has made full use of the opportunities the country gave him. The problem cases have been few and far between, and they very often involve men with no battle record."

Mr. Woods speaks with authority. He has made his statement on the basis of facts which his close association with the situation makes available to him. He is not inclined to discount difficulties, the continuing problem of housing among them. But the results of his findings on rehabilitation justify the operation of a veterans' program which has won international recognition as one of the fairest in the world. The record is one to discourage those who seek to assail the veterans' administration for purely partisan purposes.

Walter Lippmann

THE CRUCIAL GERMAN PROBLEM

IN DIPLOMACY AS IN WAR, there is no more difficult operation than that which Secretary Marshall is now facing—namely, to alter his strategic plan while deeply and dangerously engaged. But it is evident that in order to stay in Berlin without going to war, he must resume four-power negotiations about Germany. This means that the three-power agreements which were signed in London at the beginning of June will have to be re-negotiated with the Russians.

WHILE THIS IS A very considerable diplomatic success for Mr. Molotov, it is not nearly so complete as it will look if the United States persists in ignoring the Warsaw declaration of June 24 on Soviet and satellite policy about Germany. The fact is that the Soviet position has been greatly modified since the meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers in London last autumn. A year ago Mr. Molotov was not talking about "the quick conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany" and "an end to the occupation regime." He was talking about a long and indefinite occupation, and it was determination of the Russians to stay in Germany which justified new administrative arrangements, though not the creation of a German state, in western Germany.

THEREFORE, IN AGREEING to resume four-power negotiations, the United States is not starting all over again where she left off when the previous negotiations became hopelessly deadlocked. What she was trying to do then, and failing altogether, was to reach agreements by which the four powers could work together, governing Germany for many years to come. No such agreement is possible. Four powers, even if all of them were populated with saints, could not collaborate to govern the Germans, or any other large nation, or even any small nation. Three powers could not do it. Two powers could not. The fundamental fact is that military government can only be temporary.

WHAT IS NOT ONLY conceivable but necessary, perhaps even unavoidable, is that the four powers should agree on how to put an end to their effort to govern Germany. The problem is no longer how to collaborate. That is an insoluble problem. The problem, therefore, is how to make a settlement which terminates military government and liquidates the occupation with the least danger to the security of Europe and of the world.

The heart of that problem is quite evidently what kind of German regime there is to be which takes over when the occupying powers leave. Of the five proposals in the Warsaw declaration by all odds the most important and contentious is the third, which calls for "the establishment . . . of a provisional democratic peace-loving government for the whole of Germany." For there is no prospect of the four powers agreeing on such a government.

IF, THEREFORE, negotiations are resumed with the idea that agreement on a government for the whole of Germany must be reached, another hopeless deadlock will result.

But why, in all seriousness, must there be a government for the whole of Germany before agreement is reached on a German settlement which fixes the German frontiers, sets down the things which Germany is forbidden to do and the obligations which she must meet?

There is no all-German government today and under military occupation no genuine German government can be established. It cannot be established because the four powers cannot agree, it would be merely a government imposed by the victors, and therefore certain to be overthrown as soon as the victors withdrew their armies. Therefore, it is the part of wisdom. I contend, to abandon the idea that an all-German government must be established before a peace settlement is made.

IT WILL BE SAID that unless there is an all-German government, there will be no German authority to take over when occupation authorities leave. In my view the Allies could make a declaration of the terms of peace—dealing with frontiers, demilitarization, reparations, and other stipulations, and then restore to the German states, severally and jointly, the qualified sovereignty that this allows the Germans. After that the Germans could be left, within the limits laid down, with the problem of their own constitutional development.

THE EXPERIENCE of the United States throws some light on this problem. When the American colonies became independent, they were no more than a loose confederation of sovereign states. After the British occupation ended, many years elapsed before the separate states formed an effective central government.

Peace was made between the British and Americans before the Americans had a satisfactory government. Why must there be a satisfactory German government before peace is made with the Germans? There is no reason, it seems to me, why the German constitutional problem must be solved before peace is made. There is even less reason to think that it can ever be solved under military occupation and before peace is made. For whatever form of government is set up under military occupation will be damned from the beginning. It will be the work of the occupying powers and not, as any durable constitution must be, the result of the Germans having had to face without assistance and without alibis, responsibility for their own fate.

ARTHRITIS

I have read with keen personal interest, articles referring to the B.C. government's investigation of a Port Alberni man's claim that he has a cure for arthritis, mostly, I understand, as a result of dieting. I know the helplessness and suffering caused by arthritis through personal experience; but there is a cure—through those physicians now in our midst, who are able to alleviate the suffering by natural methods of treatment and dieting, suitable to the individual need of the sufferer.

These doctors, known as Naturopathic physicians, have been, and are, helping to alleviate the suffering of many. Surely in this inquiry as to the causes and cure of arthritis, representatives of these qualified physicians, and others fully qualified, should be consulted. Out of their experience they could add their quota of knowledge, giving a broader outlook to the consideration of this crippling disease.

SELLING THEIR HONOR

It is not so much in the big things, but rather in the seemingly little things of life, that we are tested. Yes, it is those small tests, in which we pass, or fail, that stamps or catalogues the person, as it were.

We are being tested today, if we but knew it, by the new tax placed upon certain goods for sale in this province. Some people never dream of evading it and pay without question; others do all in their power to evade it and will even sell their honor for one cent—for that is what it amounts to. It is the value they, themselves, have set upon it. They laughingly think they have slipped one over the government, but it is the higher part of themselves they have defrauded.

One wonders how many have stopped to consider the matter in that way and how many realize how carefully we are all—from the highest to the lowest—being weighed in the balances these momentous days?

Long Life For Scottish Drama

News from Scotland

IT WAS NOT AS UNFITTING as might at first sight appear that the play following on the heels of "The Gorbals Story" at Glasgow's Theatre Royal should have been "Charley's Aunt." Dissimilar in so many ways, they have one thing in common—the apparent ability to run for years. Charley's Aunt is now a lady of 53. Her career has an historical flavor. "The Gorbals Story" was born as recently as 1946, but already it is marked out for unusual longevity. Producer Robert Mitchell considers it now firmly established, and prophesies that it will be a favorite in Scotland for many years. Some folks, he says, have come three times in a week to see it.

Since its original try-out at an army camp in Stirlingshire two years ago, Glasgow's Unity Theatre group have taken it all over Scotland. Courageously—foolishly, some thought—they crossed the border with it. What would Londoners make of it—this raw slice of life from the over-crowded, not long since poverty-stricken, Gorbals district in Glasgow? For their enlightenment a glossary of Scottish terms was included in the program. There they learned that "scunner" meant "sicken, disgust," that "belting the grape" was to drink Red Biddy (methylated spirits), and that "greeting" did not mean the hall one gives to a friend, but was the Scots word for crying.

IN LONDON

Londoners fell for it. In fact, they appreciated it so much that the company, after bringing it back north for a week, have returned to play it in London's inner and outer suburbs.

Mildly critical of its most recent Glasgow production was the "Glasgow Herald." That newspaper's drama critic remarked that, while in its original presentation it was not only good drama but a social document of some value, the dominant theme was now swamped by laughter. Virtue, he considered, had gone out of the play. This may or may not be a sign that the social conditions which gave rise to it are in process of betterment. Whatever may have gone out of the play, audiences are still flocking in.

Most recent news is that a United States company wants to televise it.

For Robert McLeish, the author, now a cartoonist on a Glasgow newspaper, "The Gorbals Story" is a surprising success story. It was his first full-length play, and with it he won the hearts of Scots of all kinds and degrees.

Distressing Spirit

By JAMES THRASHER, from New York

THERE is an unpleasant and distressing spirit abroad in the United States. It is one which we associate with the small minority of crackpot bigots whose attitude and utterances are too distasteful to cause any widespread damage.

But some recent manifestations of this spirit do not come from the crackpots. There is, for example, the Thomas Committee blast at Dr. Edward U. Condon as one of the "weakest links" in our security chain. It has been a year since his loyalty was first questioned in Congress. Yet in all that time the committee has given the atomic scientist no chance to appear before its members and defend himself.

BANNED

A milder reflection of that spirit was the banning by a New Jersey school board of a sixth-grade social studies text-book on Latin America because of a single word. The book's author had described the socialist government of Uruguay as "Utopian."

It may be that the school officials thought that the presence of that single word would cause all their sixth graders to grow up to be bomb-throwing Reds. The ban has now been lifted, but only on condition that the publishers revise the chapter on Uruguay.

Then there was the New York City Board of Superintendents' banishment of The Nation from New York public schools. The Nation, an old, honorable and liberal (in the accepted non-Communist sense of the word) magazine, had published some controversial articles on the Catholic Church's policy toward such things as fascism, democracy, science, medicine, marriage and education.

REPLIES

Later the magazine ran a reply to these articles by a Catholic. But before this happened the public school heads of the nation's largest, most cosmopolitan and, one might think, most tolerant city, had endorsed and proscribed the publication.

These things are not the works of Communists or bundists or hooded Klansmen. They were done by persons in responsible and respected positions. Yet the first action is typical of the Communists' tactics of denunciation, and the other two fit into the philosophy of controlled thought which is a part of both communism and fascism.

The school authorities' action seems much the more reprehensible. Dr. Condon's reputation has survived the Thomas Committee charges. And though the committee has not had the fairness to let him defend himself, the fact that it has not really pressed hard for his removal suggests the flimsiness of the accusations.

INSULATION

But the book-banning is something else. It is incredible that the schools of the great city of New York should be in the charge of those who feel their duty not only to impart facts to future citizens, but to try to protect them from controversy.

The attempt to insulate children from controversy in this country is fortunately impossible. They can buy The Nation on the newsstands. But the idea that someone can shackle the free press and silence free discussion within its limited sphere of authority because he disagrees with a viewpoint has no place in this democracy.

Global Survey

By DeWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press News Analyst

ONE OF the outstanding puzzles of the moment revolves about the ultimate fate of Yugoslavia's dynamic Red dictator, Marshal Tito, who is in Moscow's bad graces.

It's a month now since the powerful Communist information bureau went to the extreme of publicly denouncing Tito's leadership of his country and declaring that unless he hews to the Moscow line he must get out.

Still Tito not only hangs on but seems stronger than ever with his followers. Why? Has this Tito, adored by his followers but labelled a villain by many of the outside world, just been lucky thus far in evading punishment by Moscow?

CLOSE TO UNIQUE

Probably Moscow is trying to figure that out, too, for Tito's defiance of the Soviet dictatorship is unique among top-leaders of the Red world revolution. This is the first break in the solidarity of the Communist slave states of eastern Europe.

Tito's response to Moscow's edict amounted to open defiance. He expressed deep affection for Stalin and swore to follow the party lines, but by both word and deed he has made it clear that he is the big boss in Yugoslavia.

DANGEROUS GAME

Moscow accuses him of aiming at a Balkan federation, and that would give him a great sphere of activity.

That, of course, is what Moscow is afraid of. The Yugoslav communist congress was told yesterday that all plans for a Balkan federation have been dropped. Maybe, but the proof of the plum duff is in the eating thereof, and we shall see.

TITO IS TOUGH

Tito isn't going to give up his dictatorship without a struggle. And he is tough. He also follows the code that communism can do no wrong.

The 56-year-old Tito, born Josip Broz, is a peasant's son who has pulled himself up by his bootstraps. He distinguished himself in the war by leading a partisan army against the German invaders of Yugoslavia and became such a thorn in the side of the Nazis that a reward of 100,000 marks was placed on his head.

Tito acquired his communism in the First World War and inflicted it on Yugoslavia during the second global conflict. Now we wait to see whether his stature is great enough so that he can defy Moscow and get away with it.

SIDE-SHOW CATEGORY

London (Ont.) Free Press
The greatest tragedy of the past session of Parliament was the sidetracking of the cost-of-living issue to an impotent and costly committee of inquiry. Parliament—all members of Parliament—were to blame for permitting the greatest problem of the day to be relegated to the category of a side-show to the main event.

BRITISH 'FLY CANADIAN'

Financial Post
The decision of British Overseas Airways Corporation to buy 22 Canadian North Star airliners in preference to British-built planes will not be happy news for British aircraft builders but it will be regarded as a feather in the cap of the Canadian manufacturers, Canadair of Montreal.

Recent controversy over the merits of the North Star as an efficient commercial transport ship doesn't seem to have damaged the plane's good reputation. The British order will do much to increase Canada's stature as an important entity in the aviation world.

TWO'S A CROWD

Windosar
Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery has cast a critical eye over Britain's young people and concluded they have a deficiency of backbone. They have lost some of their self-reliance, he said, and some of their self-respect. They lack discipline. In his own words, "The high sense of duty is lacking."

Britons young and old probably will welcome "Monty's" appraisal but they won't necessarily agree with it. The standards he sets are not easily approached, in peace or war. More than one officer of high rank was sent packing during the war years because he wasn't tough enough for this austere martinet.

After all, a nation which measured up to "Monty's" demands would be out of place in this world. It's enough to have a country produce one like him in every generation. That one would be a good man to have around in a time of national crisis. Two contemporaries fashioned in that mould would very definitely be a crowd.

Two Men Killed
In Plane Crash

GRAND FORKS, B.C. (CP)—The pilot and one passenger of a four-passenger aircraft were killed Wednesday when the plane crashed shortly after a take-off from the airport here.

Dead are Arthur N. Hilson, pilot, Spokane, Wash., and Lester Farish of Lincoln, Wash. In serious condition in hospital here are the two other passengers, Norman W. Porteous of Seattle and J. R. McDonald of Inchemum, Wash.

They left Spokane about noon for a fishing trip in the Okanagan Valley, and had just cleared the customs at the airport here when the Seebee aircraft was apparently caught by a downdraft and struck a tree a mile from the airport.

The motor of the plane was doubled back on the cabin from the force of the crash.

To Urge Compulsory
Military Service
At Liberal Parley

VANCOUVER (CP)—A one-year compulsory military draft for Canadian men between 18 and 21 years of age will be urged on the National Liberal Convention in Ottawa next month by the British Columbia delegation, it was learned here Wednesday night.

Arthur Laing, provincial president of the B.C. Liberals, said the resolution is aimed at introducing peacetime conscription into Canada in the same form as the recently-adopted United States draft law.

The resolution would challenge the anti-conscription position of French Canada and is expected to produce a bitter policy fight on the convention floor.

Anticipating opposition, Mr. Laing said the B.C. delegation "is out to force the resolution to the convention floor." He said eastern Liberal Party strategists are planning to sidetrack the resolution.

The DOCTOR
Says:

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
EARLY TREATMENT AIDS CANCER CURE

A patient with cancer cannot be treated until that patient has consulted a physician, and the physician has made the diagnosis. Today, more people than ever realize the need of seeing a physician early in cancer, but some still stay away from the doctor because they are afraid they will be told that cancer is present. This reasoning is most unfortunate, since, if cancer can be discovered early, the chances for cure are good, whereas if found late, there is far less likelihood of a complete cure.

Lumps which appear anywhere on the body should always be suspected. Abnormal bleeding from any of the openings of the body is also a sign that an immediate examination should be made. Loss of weight, which cannot be explained by dieting or other obvious causes, is another symptom which should be taken as a reason for consulting a physician.

Of course, cancer in some locations is much easier to diagnose than in others. By modern methods of diagnosis, including X-ray, however, many cases, even those involving the internal organs, can be discovered early enough so that treatment is thoroughly satisfactory. Examination must be complete and careful, but today the "facilities" for diagnosis and treatment are so much better than in the past that great strides have been made in the conquest of cancer.

CANCEROPHOBIA, TOO

Although it is extremely important for any suspicion of cancer to be promptly investigated, people can be so "cancer conscious" that they become nervous and worried all the time. Some go from doctor to doctor, sure that they have the disease but convinced that they are not being told the truth.

This state of nervousness is called cancerophobia, and it causes great suffering and nervousness. Such people should take themselves in hand and, when they have been told after examination that they do not have cancer, should make an effort to forget their distress and merely to have follow-up examinations at such intervals as are recommended by their physicians.

Nicknames For Political Figures Amuse Britons

LONDON (CP) — Song-in-the-heart Dalton and Bootless Wilson have a new companion in the company of nicknamed notables. He is Vermin Bevan.

Other veteran members are Tinker's Cuss Shinwell and Bath-less Gaitskell.

The granting of unappreciated titles to public figures has been a British custom since Parliament began. Nowadays nicknames are advertised and sometimes invented by music hall comedians and light BBC programs. In the Commons, references to boots, rats, tinkers, songs and baths are all invested with a special meaning every member remembers.

TIMES OF AUSTERITY

Dalton, when Chancellor of the Exchequer, spoke of facing Britain's financial future with a song in his heart. Soon afterwards, the economic crisis struck with full force, new austerity was imposed and overseas buying curtailed. The chancellor's heart-song became a dirge in the alert memories of his political opponents.

Wilson, as President of the Board of Trade, in a moment of oratory spoke of difficult days before labor came to power and cited the tragedy of barefooted schoolchildren in his north of England schooldays. Said children, now of man's estate, denied they were shoeless and Wilson, in a published letter, indicated he was sorry about the whole thing.

Fuel Minister Gaitskell, appealing for economy in the use of fuel, said he had found he could get along with fewer baths and thus cut down coal consumption. He has since made plain in the Commons that the subject of baths wears him excessively.

War Minister Shinwell, former Fuel Minister, was quoted as saying at a Margate meeting:

"We know the organized workers of the country are our friends... as for the rest, they don't matter a tinker's cuss."

LETTERS ON WALL

Prime Minister Attlee later told the Commons Shinwell had asked him to explain he did not want to leave the impression he would ignore the views and interests of others in the country. But one night "Tinker's Palace" was painted on the wall before Shinwell's house in letter 18 inches high.

Last to win a "title" was Health Minister Bevan, who said in a recent speech, "so far as I am concerned, the Tories are lower than vermin."

The Conservatives now ask him whether he really wants the help of "vermin" in making a success of the national health and other programs in which universal co-operation is desirable.

EGG WILL STAND UPRIGHT IF YOLK IS SHAKEN TO BOTTOM

Have you ever tried to make an egg stand on end?

It is hard to do, unless you know how.

A legend about Columbus tells us that while he was at a banquet after his first trip across the Atlantic, a map said to him:

"It was easy for you to cross the ocean! All you had to do was to sail westward until you came to land!"

"Can you make an egg stand on end?" asked the admiral.

"No."

"Well, here is an egg and I will make it stand on end," said Columbus.

Suiting action to the word, he cracked one end of an egg and set it on the table.

"Oh, that's easy!" said the other.

"Yes," replied Columbus, "it is easy when someone shows you how."

Other ways of making an egg stand on end might have been used if Columbus had known the secrets. Here is one method of doing it:

Pick up a fresh egg and shake it until the "yolk" is loose and sinks to the blunt end of the egg. You cannot see the yolk through the shell, but if you shake the egg well and then place it on its blunt end, holding it up with your hand for two or three minutes, the yolk should sink to the bottom.

One evening I tested this, and at last succeeded in making the egg balance and stand on end. A very level surface is needed to perform the experiment. The egg which I stood on end stayed up all night, and I saw it in that position when I awoke in the morning. It was cooked for my breakfast, and it tasted as good as an egg which had not been shaken up.

An egg which has been treated in that way will stand on end because the yolk part is heavier than the white. When the yolk sinks to the bottom of the shell the centre of gravity is made lower. The same principle is used when lead is placed at the base of a salt-shaker. This makes it hard for the shaker to be tipped over.

The yolk of an egg is not nearly so heavy as lead, so you may have trouble in making the egg stand up, even after you get the yolk to the bottom of the shell. You can, however, perform the trick if you do the shaking and standing in just the right way.

Last Japanese In Moose Jaw Camp Ordered To Leave

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (CP) — The Japanese relocation camp four miles from here appeared today due to cease its war-born function.

Sheriff G. C. Russell at noon

Wednesday served a 24-hour notice to vacate on 57-year-old Musulchi Sasai, last resident of the hundreds that had come from British Columbia. They were removed from the coast province during the Second World War as a possible hazard to military security and were not allowed to return. Their property later was sold for them by the federal government and residents of relocation camps were provided with transportation to jobs elsewhere in the Dominion if they so chose.

Sasai has till noon tomorrow to vacate. On July 14, 32 residents were evicted. They had refused to seek work in the area or else where, arguing that unless they could return to British Columbia, they would stay where they were.

Last fall, the federal government ordered the greater part of the camp closed and stopped food shipments to it. The Japanese spent the winter in two huts, working to receive food or obtaining it from friends.

Two elderly Japanese still remain camped outside the camp grounds in tents and it was expected Sasai would join them. The other evicted persons all have moved to quarters in the city or taken work in the area.

The three hold-outs say they will remain where they are until federal restrictions are lifted against nationals on March 31, 1949.

Vancouver Ceremony Unites Anne Jones, Thomas Huggon

St. Philip's Anglican Church, Vancouver, was the scene of a wedding Monday at 8, when Miss Anne Elizabeth Jones, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jones, Moose Jaw, Sask., exchanged marriage vows with Thomas Norman Huggon, Victoria, only son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Huggon, Vancouver.

A reception following the ceremony performed by Rev. H. J. Greig, was held at Alma Hall, West Broadway, where mothers of the couple assisted in receiving guests. An old family friend, A. Gow, gave the toast to the bride.

A locket of gold and blue, belonging to her grandmother, was chosen by the bride to complement her gown of white slipper satin, with sheer nylon net yoke and fitted bodice topped with a wide ruffle of satin and lace, and bouffant skirt. A coronet headpiece held her full-length embroidered net veil and she carried Virginia carnations, white gladioli, sweet peas and sprigs of white heather in her bouquet.

In a gown of pale yellow net posed over taffeta, with metallic gold bodice, Mrs. D. A. Fraser, Victoria, attended the bride as honor matron. Also of Victoria, Miss Doreen Thomas, in cameo pink taffeta, was bridesmaid. Both carried bouquets of carnations and sweet peas and wore similar blossoms in a coronet headpiece.

John Dawson served his cousin as best man. J. Douglas Suttie and Garth S. Rogers were ushers.

Seattle and other points along the west coast are being visited by the newlyweds on their wedding trip, following which they will make their home at 636 Superior Street. The bride changed to a dressmaker suit of blue pin stripe with red accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias, for traveling.

Ever tasted strawberries and prunes together? Try them this way in a fruit and cottage cheese luncheon salad. Select large pitted cooked prunes and fill them with whole or halved strawberries. Arrange a mound of cottage cheese on greens and surround with the stuffed prunes. Pass French dressing to go on top. Bread sticks are a natural with this.

Imagination Makes A Wall

A Masterpiece of Decor Drama Doesn't Need Art Masterpiece

Use a professional decorator's tricks to make imaginative arrangements of pictures if you want to employ one of the least expensive devices for enhancing the charm of a room.

Ready to show you how is Alban Conway, swank New York interior decorator whose clever wall treatments distinguish his services to a list of important clients.

You needn't own costly masterpieces to achieve dramatic effects, says Conway. Inexpensive prints can do just as well, sometimes better, he says. Even dull black and white prints salvaged from an attic give a high-style sparkle to a room when matted on bright-colored paper, simply framed and hung in compact groups.

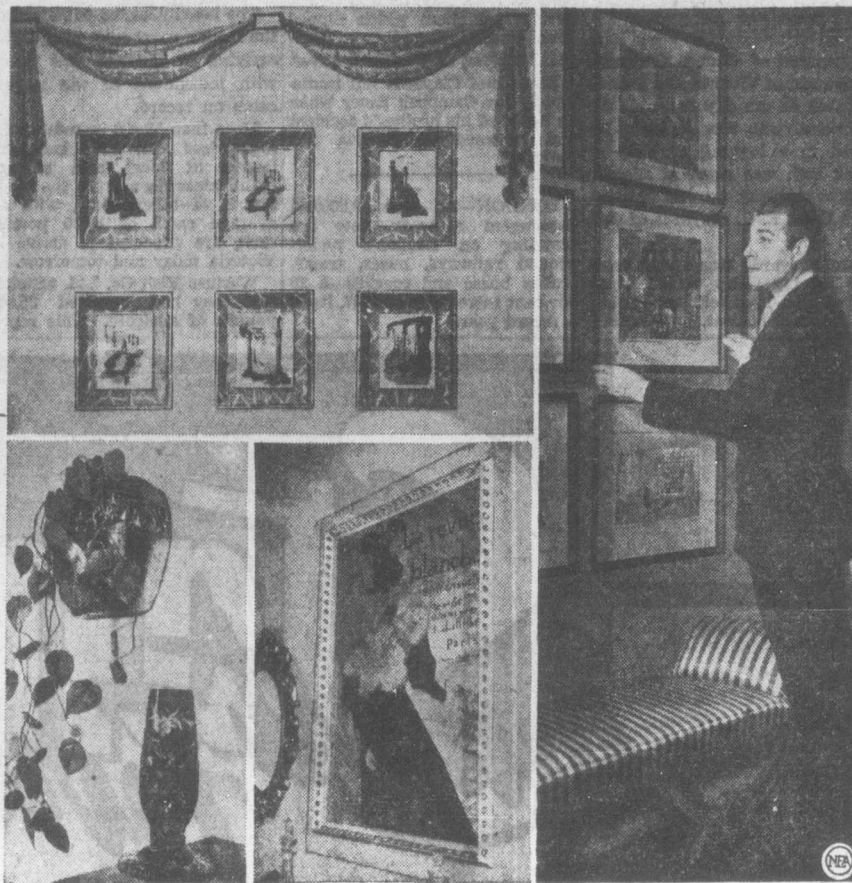

In fact, your "picture" may be a decorative arrangement of plants in an unusual container. Case in point is Conway's trick of cutting an old-fashioned scrolled brass bowl in half and mounting it on the wall as gleaming background for ivy plants inside the two containers.

Instead of spotting small or unrelated pictures over your walls, bring the assortment together in one dramatic composition, he advises. Hang the group so the eye can move across it in a straight line. Place tops of frames in line with the top of your doorway for a good rule-of-thumb.

When you're hanging one large picture or grouping several smaller ones over a table or couch, the outer edges of the frames should not extend beyond the furniture, Conway cautions, if you want a well-balanced arrangement.

To give a simple frame for a large picture more self-importance, add to the inside border of the wood a raised strip of molding pierced with holes bored close together. Light filtering through the openwork will cast interesting shadows and give the illusion of depth to the flat surface.

Maybe you have several prints or same-size photographs but no frames. Then Conway's suggestion is to use marbelized paper borders, setting off the display with a fake drapery swag, also of marbelized wallpaper.

These decorative wall treatments are the work of Alban Conway, noted New York interior decorator at work at right adjusting a symmetrical arrangement of paintings to balance the length of the satin-covered bench. He used marbelized wallpaper to make the "drapery" swag and frames for the six prints at top left, one-half of an old brass bowl backed with metal for the ivy holder at bottom left. Strip of molding pierced with holes adds depth and importance to the simple wood frame of the French poster at bottom centre.

Give your favorite cabbage salad new tone for summer menus by including some canned cling peaches and green sweet pepper. Cut the peach slices in half and dice the pepper. Then combine all the ingredients with a sour cream and mayonnaise dressing. It's specially good with cold cuts of meat.

Get the makings for your summer relish plates from the garden and team them up with big glossy ripe olives. Tomato wedges, tender green onions and radishes are always favorites. Roll the olives in salad oil so they keep their shine.

Prepared pudding mixes are ideal for quick summer pies. Make a chilled graham cracker crumb shell and fill with vanilla pudding mix cooked in tangy apricot whole fruit nectar. Then top with a garland of juicy red raspberries. It's delightful.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Miss Dix: How can a girl tell if the man she loves will love her until death do them part? From observation I have about come to the conclusion that as soon as a man gets married he falls out of love with his wife and begins flirting with other women.

MARY H.

Answer: There is no acid test that you can apply to a man before marriage that will determine the percentage of faithfulness and domesticity in his nature. The best that a girl can do is to try to get a line upon his general habits and outlook on life.

If he is one of the chaps who is always swapping from job to job; if his tastes and opinions are always changing; if he chases after every skirt that comes by, he is pretty sure to make a restless husband who will be bored to death with matrimony. No woman can hold that sort of man long because variety is the spice of life to him. He is bound to have change.

But, on the other hand, there are the settled men who do not like change, and to whom everything takes on an added value just because it belongs to them. So if you want a husband who will be faithful to you until death, pick out a man with stick-to-it-iveness qualities, and then do your part in keeping him fascinated.

For entertaining at a summer tea party in the garden or on the veranda, chicken salad served in tiny minute-size cream puff shells is just about perfect. Chopped or silvered toasted almonds in the salad give it a most heavenly taste. Combine the chicken and almonds with celery and mayonnaise and season to taste.

George Clayards Seriously Hurt In Logging Mishap

Condition of George Clayards, native son of Victoria and former member of the city detective department, who was seriously injured in a logging accident at Rock Bay, was reported slightly improved today by his brother, Fire Chief E. G. Clayards of Oak Bay.

Mr. Clayards was flown from the logging camp, which is on the south side of Johnstone Strait in Sayward district, to Campbell River, where he is at Lourdes Hospital.

Employed as a loading engineer by Sam Brothers logging company at Rock Bay, he was struck by a heavy chain which slipped from a boom, according to a report received at Campbell River.

Fire Chief Clayards left immediately for Campbell River when he heard of his brother's accident and returned to Victoria this morning.

He expressed the regret of the entire district at losing so capable a principle, but wished him every success in his new appointment. Mr. Ferguson, who played an important part in organizing the parent-teacher association here and took an active interest in community affairs, told the gathering he would always recall Campbell River with the warmest affection. ## DIVORCE IS NO SOLUTION

Divorce is NOT an open gateway to happiness, for "you can never be wholly free of someone you once loved," says Nina Wilcox Putnam, twice divorced herself. In August Reader's Digest, this famous writer (now happily married) discusses the causes of divorce and shows what tragic mistakes most divorces are. Read what she considers the real secret of a successful marriage . . . and how many a shaky marriage can be made to work—if you really want it to. (Condensed from MacLean's)

Here a noted psychiatrist claims that comic books represent systematic poisoning of the well of childhood spontaneity . . . argues that the case for comics is founded on misconceptions. "Cold" women—and why. Frigidity in women (or what is assumed to be frigidity) is more widespread than realized, apparently on the increase—says Amram Scheinfeld, noted authority. He explains psychological causes of frigidity . . . tells how much of this personal tragedy may often be averted.

Live in "day-night compartments". Worrying about yesterday, anxious about tomorrow, too many of us put off really living for a day that never comes, says Dale Carnegie. NEW YORK — Eugene S. Briggs of Enid, Oklahoma, is the new president of the International Association of Lions Clubs. He was elected by unanimous vote at the 31st annual convention of the association, which closed here today. Briggs succeeds Fred W. Smith of Ventura, California.

The convention concluded one of the most successful years in the history of Lions International, according to the report made by the secretary-general and founder of the association, Melvin Jones of Chicago. He reported the formation of 819 new Lions Clubs and the addition of 31,696 men to the roster of the association in the 12-month period ended June 30, 1948, for a total of 6,808 clubs and 358,144 members. He stated also that during the year Lions Clubs were established in four additional countries: Sweden, Switzerland, Chile and Newfoundland. Lions International, he added, is now the largest, strongest and most active service club organization in the world, with Lions Clubs in 23 countries on five continents.

Briggs, in accepting the presidency, said: "Peace is the number one problem of today. It is the first obligation against our efforts and resources. It is the primary obligation of our generation. Since Lions International is vitally interested in every constructive movement for world peace and good will around the world, it shall be our unwavering purpose to see to it that well-qualified representatives of our organization attend all meetings of specialized agencies of the United Nations, such as Unesco, if it appears that we can be of service in charting a way to better international understanding."

"It is a distinct privilege for me as president of Lions International, officially to appoint our esteemed Lion and retiring international president, Fred W. Smith, to represent Lions International at the General Assembly of the United Nations to be held this autumn in Paris, France. As your president, I am calling on every genuinely devoted Lion to do his part wherever he can serve to hasten the day when good will among men shall reign upon the earth."

Briggs was born in Howard County, Missouri. He received B.S. degrees from Central College at Fayette, Missouri, and from the University of Missouri. ## Headed Field In Golf Test

MARJORIE TODD

Marking her return to major tournament golf, the former city champion paced competitors in the 72-hole test to determine berths on the British Columbia representative team to compete in the Canadian championships at Saint John, N.B., next month, with a score of 331. Miss Todd finished with a five-stroke margin on Mrs. Margaret Todd, also of Victoria. Miss Todd, who won the city title for the first time in 1930 at the tender age of 14 and repeated in 1932, played in the Canadian championship last year, winning the championship consolation flight. A fine competitor, Miss Todd's return to form provides this city with a ranking contender in tournament competition. Third Victorian on the B.C. team is Isabel Jarvis. The team will leave for the east Aug. 13.

Upsets Feature Matches In Canadian Net Tournery

TORONTO (CP)—Quarterfinalists in the Canadian tennis championships were decided yesterday as three seeded players were knocked out of the title hunt.

Two foreign invaders, Tony Vincent of the University of Miami and Severin Lee of Norway, were knocked out by Jean Paul Turgeon of Quebec City and Rene Buser of Montreal, respectively.

Jim Macken of Montreal, Canadian Davis Cup player, was upset by a fellow townsman, Jean Jacques Desjardins, who surprised Macken by playing at the net instead of his normal baseline position. Scores were 6-4, 6-2.

Top-seeded Henri Rochon of Montreal swept Dave Dymont of Toronto off the court 6-2, 6-0 to be the fourth Quebec player to enter the quarter-finals.

Tragedy marred the day's play as Ernie (Red) Legon, 45-year-old Ottawa teacher, collapsed during a veterans' singles match and died within 20 minutes.

Buser, member of the Swiss Davis Cup team in 1946, took advantage of Legon's many errors to win 6-3, 6-2.

Two American intercollegiate players went to the quarter-finals with six Canadians. Since they are in opposite halves of the draw, the possibility remains that one or either will go to the finals.

Lin Baldwin of Yale defeated C. Maas of Montreal 6-1, 6-0 while Bill Tulley of Notre Dame bested J. R. Duff of Montreal 6-2, 6-3.

Lorne Main of Vancouver went to the fifth round of the junior singles with two sweeping victories yesterday. He defeated J. Caldron, Toronto, 6-1, 6-0, and T. Aust, Ottawa, 6-0, 6-0.

Mary Green of Vancouver defeated Claire Renshaw of Montreal in the only scheduled women's singles match.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

VICTORIA'S baseball hopefuls are going to get a break. With the famed New York Yankees moving their traveling school into the city for three days next month every aspiring ball player, over 12 years of age, will get a chance to receive tuition from the experts. Through the co-operation of the Times the four outstanding pupils at the school will be presented with valuable baseball equipment. For the guidance of parents I wish to point out at this time that youngsters under 12 years should not be sent to the school. "Any boy under that age is not advanced to a point where the clinic would do him much good. As it is, the instructors will face quite a task handling the large enrollment and nothing would be gained by making their work more difficult through the attendance of the small fry."

VICTORIA gains the signal honor of being the first western Canadian city in which the Yankees have conducted their school. Since the Pacific coast unit was organized last season it has built up a lot of prestige and goodwill for the American League club. Once the Yankees officials were informed of the fine work being carried out for young baseballers in this area by the Victoria Minor Baseball Association it was no problem to induce them to conduct their clinic here.

CHATTING with Eddie Leishman, Pacific coast farm director for the Yankees, and the person, directly responsible for bringing the school here, he requested that it be pointed out that the three-day promotion is not a try-out school. "It is strictly a school for the teaching of the fundamentals of baseball, and I don't want any boy to get the idea we are looking for prospects," Leishman said.

IN ORDER to provide every youngster with a chance to attend the school day and night classes are planned. If the school officials favor the idea it is possible an exhibition game may be arranged for the final night. Youngsters who are planning to register for the school must remember the classes will be strictly business and there will be no time for fooling around. Any boy who is not prepared to pay attention and absorb the vast amount of instruction available he would be well advised to not attend.

WITH the school coming to Victoria for the first time this winter welcomes the opportunity to lend its help to such a fine cause. The three-day affair is certain to give baseball a decided lift amongst the younger generation of the city and this newspaper is always willing to give its assistance to any project that plays a part in furthering the welfare of youth. If a youngster is keenly interested in some branch of sport there is little chance of his getting into trouble of any serious nature.

Pitzer &amp; Nex Edge Eagles To Regain Fourth-Place Tie

Remaining in the loop cellar for only a day, Pitzer & Nex decided they didn't like being the doormats of the senior baseball loop and came back to edge the second-place Eagles' squad, 7 to 6 last night to move back into a fourth-place tie with Boosters. Gasmen face a stern test tonight, however, when they meet the loop-leading Ben's Bombers at Athletic Park, starting at 7.

Gasmen opened up strong, scoring all their runs in the first three innings off the veteran Stan Davies, while nailing losers to three singletons. Buddy Bendall took over for Eagles in the fourth, but went out in the sixth in favor of manager Gar Taylor. Grant MacArthur hurled a good game for Pitzer & Nex in chalking up his first win of the season. He scattered seven singles over the nine innings, took eight on strikes and walked nine. Birdmen threatened to tie the game in the eighth when they put together three hits, a walk, a stolen base and an outfield error for three runs, but lost all chance on some bad base running.

Short score follows:
Pitzer & Nex ..... R. H. E.
Eagles ..... 7 9 3
G. MacArthur and French; Davies, Bendall (4), Taylor (6) and Carson.

Blankenship Stops Spokane For 16th Win

Kubiak Drives In Winning Run In 8th; Athletics Back On Road

Joe Blankenship did it again. The most consistent winner of the Victoria Athletics pitching corps chalked up victory number 16 last night as he fashioned himself a beautiful eight-hitter to edge Spokane Indians 4 to 3. Although the A's dropped their first home series of the season to the visitors, as a result of that double defeat Tuesday night, the win kept them right up there close in the W.I.L. pennant chase.

Athletics were back on the road today, opening a four-game series in Wenatchee tonight. They will move over to Spokane and back to Wenatchee before coming home again. Del Owens will be the starting hurler for the opener against the Chiefs.

Sharing the spotlight with Blankenship was outfielder Lou Kubiak who drove in two of the Victoria runs, including the winning tally in the eighth. Of the nine hits the A's picked up off

Frank Nelson, Kubiak, the ever-improving Russ Walseth and Archie Wilson each grabbed a pair. Blankenship got airtight support from his mates, the infield handling 24 chances without a miscue.

FAST GAME

It was a mound duel all the way between two solid right-handers. The clubs reeled off the eighth and a half innings in an hour and 40 minutes.

Blankenship, who got stronger and had better stuff as the game progressed, ran into little trouble. However, he threw a couple of home run pitches and they accounted for all the Spokane runs. Gene Petralli, second batter to face Blankenship in the first inning, lined one over the centre field wall to move Spokane into a 1 to 0 edge. Athletics picked up a pair in the second. Wilson doubled to left centre and romped home on Jensen's triple to deep right field.

Recca and Walseth both drew walks to load the bags. Kubiak forced the runner at second as Jensen scored. Blankenship drew another pass to load them up again but Balassi fanned for the second out and Buccola lofted to right field.

ERROR COSTS RUN

When Kubiak drew a life on shortstop Brownson's boot it cost Spokane a run in the fourth.

Blankenship sacrificed and Balassi's smash through the box plated the runner.

Sanclemente's home run on a three and two pitch with Hedging-ton aboard, by virtue of a single, put Spokane back on even terms in the sixth.

With one away in the Victoria half of the eighth, Recca worked Nelson for his third walk. On a hit and run Walseth singled into right, Recca pulling up at third. Kubiak hung one on the clothes line into left field to score what proved the winning run.

In the ninth Blankenship struck out Gibb and pinch-hitter Thomas and forced Nelson to fly out to Wilson to protect his one-run margin.

Bremerton Jackets who took over the league lead largely on the strength of their pitching can also slug that baseball. The Tars unleashed a 22-hit assault last night on three Salem hurlers for a 19 to 3 win.

It enabled Bremerton to maintain its two-game lead over Tacoma which blasted Yakima 8 to 1 in seven innings and then went 12 innings to a 5 to 5 deadlock that was called because of the time limit.

Vancouver took the odd game of three from Wenatchee 5 to 1 on Hank Anderson's three-hit pitching.

Bremerton counted in each of the first seven innings, including an eight-run spree in the second. Allen Maul touched off the parade with a two-run homer in the first and John Conant coasted to his 15th mound triumph of the year. Dick Snovic accounted for all three Salem tallies with a home run and a triple.

Douglas Tire Gains City Softball Final

Scoring their third straight victory over Bluebird Cabs last night, by a 10 to 8 score, Douglas Tire moved into the finals of the city senior A men's softball playoffs. They will now await the winner of the other playoff between Brentwood Aces and Timber Service, who play the third game of their series tomorrow night at Central Park, starting at 6.45.

Name 'Y' Swim Team For Kelowna Regatta

The Y.M.C.A. swimming club team to compete at the annual Kelowna Regatta, Aug. 3 and 4, was named today by Mrs. Marjorie Naysmith, secretary of the club and acting coach in the absence of Archie McKinnon.

Captain of the men's team will be Jack Morgan, with Jean Mills to skipper the women's entry. Others making the trip include Stan Powell, Barry Caviness, Ray Jubb and Bill Dodderidge in the men's section and Ina Salmon, Joan Morgan, Nita Anderson, Pat Wright, Norma Stewart and Peggy Wood representing the ladies.

Miss Salmon and Miss Morgan, who competed in the Olympic trials at Verdun, Que., are at present holidaying in the United States but have signified their intention of being on hand for the Kelowna meet.

The Y.M.C.A. swimmers hold a number of the Kelowna championships and the junior stars who will represent the club this year will be out to uphold the honor established by such senior members as Peter Salmon and Eric Jubb. Jubb and Salmon are on the Canadian Olympic swimming team.

Johnny Hausman's Hot Racing Car Returns Saturday

Johnny Hausman of Seattle sent over word today he will have his No. 7 car on hand for Saturday night's weekly auto racing card at the Langford Speedway.

Driver of the Washington speed wagon has not been settled and it is possible Hausman will climb in behind the wheel himself. Del Fanning, also of Seattle, is expected back with his No. 1 racer.

Usual strong contingent of Victoria cars and drivers will be in attendance. Time trials start at 7.30.

Officials of the British Columbia Automotive Sports Association announced today that Jerry Vantreight, local driver injured last Saturday night, had been discharged from hospital. He will be out of racing action for some time.

Judge Shandley Gets Ace At Jasper Park

It was the first day the hole had been in play but Judge Shandley of Victoria Golf Club found little difficulty with it.

Playing at Jasper Park Golf Club on the new 190-yard 12th hole, Judge Shandley sank his tee shot, using a spoon, to record the first hole-in-one of the year at the course. It was the first time he had played the Jasper course since 1928.

His partners were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wolfe of Edmonton, Alta. Judge and Mrs. Shandley are vacationing at Jasper Park Lodge. Stanley Thompson, Jasper Park golf designer, presented the judge with a dozen golf balls in honor of the feat.

The Tirenmen had to come from behind twice as the Cabbies put up a stubborn defence once they were in the lead. Holness opened the game with a single to left. Johnson walked. Prior singled to load the bases. Jimmy John lined a O'Garrett in left and Johnson was doubled off second base. Embleton doubled to send in two runs giving Bluebirds the lead.

Douglas Tire moved ahead 3 to 2 in the fourth on three hits, a sacrifice, and a base on balls good for three runs. They added two more in the sixth as Hall led off with a single and went to second on an error to the left fielder. Mair singled to send the runner in. He advanced to third base on the play at the plate, scoring after Ellis had skied out to right.

FIVE-RUN RALLY

Bluebirds had a big inning in the seventh scoring five runs including a grand-slam home run by Prior. MacKay opened with a single. Garnet made a great backhand catch of a ball by Stan Wiseman. Aspinall was safe on an error. Harry Holness singled to send in MacKay. Johnson walked to load the bases and set the stage for Prior's home run, giving the Cabbies a 7 to 5 lead.

The winners scored once in the bottom of the seventh as Robinson came in after reaching first on a single. Byers sacrificed him along, and the runner went to third on a wild pitch. Vic Dale banged out a single and the run was in.

Douglas Tire batters connected for four straight hits in the eighth, featured by a home run by Robinson, and Majorki went in to relieve Aspinall and he forced the next two batters to ground out.

GREAT CATCH

In the first of the ninth a rally by the Bluebirds was stopped when Dale made a circus catch in right centre of a ball off the bat of Prior. Majorki had scored one run after reaching first on a walk, went to second on a fielder's choice, stole third, and came home on Tommy Johnson's single. Prior was the next batter and he lined the first pitch to the outfield. Ray Byers in right, got his glove on the ball, and Dale came out of nowhere to catch the ball before it hit the ground, for the out. John ended the game by grounding out, pitcher to first.

Stan Tenning was the winning hurler, and Aspinall the loser. The winners picked up 14 hits, and Bluebirds 9.

Pepper Lou Pays $91; Ab Jr. Wins Futurity

VANCOUVER (CP)—Ab Forshaw's good two-year-old colt, Ab Jr., fresh from two impressive victories at Seattle's Longacres track, Wednesday sprinted to an easy five-length victory in the featured "B.C. Futurity" and its $2,000 added purse here at Lansdowne Park.

Jockey Merlin Volzke of Seattle rode the chocolate-colored mount through a heavy track to cop his second of three winners. Mud Puddle was second and Lynn Valley third.

Carrying top weight of 119 pounds, Volzke rode Ab Jr. into a two-length lead at the half-mile post, stretched it to four lengths at the three-quarter mark, and won going away.

THE VANCOUVER-OWNED mount was a favorite with odds of 8 to 10 to win on the entry of Ab Jr. and Albert F., and paid $3.60, $2.60 and $2.25.

Volzke also booted home Bill B in the fifth and Poncho S in the eighth.

The daily double from Pepper Lou to Hazelgreen paid $200.05, and the quinella returned $14.65.

Seals Rally In Eighth To Boost Coast Loop Lead

For seven innings Los Angeles' Red Lynn, the Coast League's most winning pitcher, had the San Francisco Seals trained, trimmed and manicured.

Then two walks followed by singles by Gene Woodling and Mickey Rocco—and a fielder's choice—rammed home three runs in the Seals' eighth, wiping out a 3 to 1 Angel lead. The Seals added another tally in the ninth for a 5 to 3 victory.

Sacramento's Edgar Smith, southpaw, and Manny Salvo, righty, combined to shut out San Diego, 9 to 0, on seven hits. Jim Tabor's homer and two singles paced the Solon's 12-hit assault on George Nicholas and Mike Budnick.

Three runs in the third inning clinched Seattle's 4 to 2 decision over Portland. Johnny Gorsica scattered 10 Beaver blows for the win.

Am. League Umpire Suspended 10 Days

The suspension dates from July 20. McGowan, 52, and serving his 24th year in the American League, will be eligible to resume officiating Friday. He was charged with throwing baseballs, also his balls and strikes indicator, at Washington players and using improper language.

President Harridge made the following statement: "After a thorough investigation I find the charges filed against William McGowan for his conduct and use of bad language on the ball field at Washington have been substantiated."

Record Number Of Dancers Entered In Highland Games

There will be flashing feet, whirling kilts and the skirt of the pipes aplenty at Macdonald Park Saturday when the Victoria Highland Games Association presents its 11th annual Highland gathering.

Over 130 dancers, more than have participated in the event in any previous year, have entered already, and officials anticipate still greater numbers to be on hand when the dancing gets under way at 9 Saturday morning.

Three pipe bands will be in attendance to ensure adequate accompaniment for the flings and reels—the 16th Scottish of Victoria, the Seaforths Band, Vancouver, and Victoria's colorful Girls' Pipe Band.

OFFICIAL OPENING

The official opening by Duncan MacBride, first president of the association, will take place at 2 in the afternoon, immediately before the track and field events get under way.

Mr. MacBride will light a fiery cross, similar to that used in Scotland in "Calling out the clans," which will be sent to Vancouver for their Highland Games the following week.

After a like ceremony in Vancouver, the cross will be sent on to Seattle two weeks hence where the third in the Pacific Northwest Highland games series will be held.

One of Victoria's most colorful annual events, the games this year have attracted dancers and athletes from several coastal and prairie centres.

A new cadre of correct specifications has been prepared by Arthur Manson, head referee. The Victoria Police tug-o-war team, fresh from their triumph at All-Sooke Day, are priming for their annual heave with fellow constables from Vancouver—always their keenest rivals.

Quesnel Telephone System Brings $8,000

The provincial government by order-in-council has approved the sale to the Dominion government for between $7,000 and $8,000 of the Quesnel Telephone Company Ltd. system.

The Public Utilities Commission made an order approving the sale earlier in the month which the cabinet has approved.

The federal government will continue operations of the system.

Charges Hundreds Voted Without Right

VANCOUVER (CP)—A former Liberal M.L.A. has charged that hundreds of people "who hadn't been in town 10 days" voted in the Vancouver Centre by-election in June.

He is Maj. R. Burde, who spoke at a Liberal Association meeting. He said he would bring his information before a committee formed by the Centre Liberal executive to probe the reasons for their party's defeat by C.C.F. candidate Rod Young.

Burde blamed the enumeration system in use at federal elections. He said the enumerators had taken from landladies of rooming houses, names of persons who had arrived in town only a few days before the elections.

He claimed many of these persons were from Saskatchewan. "They all voted against us," he added.

PRACTICING FOR DISPLAY—One of the 12 physical education classes at the Summer School is shown above carrying out part of a Danish exercise table in preparation for a giant physical education display to be held at Victoria High School next Wednesday afternoon at 3. Approximately 600 teachers will take part in the program, which is under the direction of Gordon Gillespie, and Misses May Adams, Nancy Ferguson and Vera Gilchrist.

Some Seen Alive In Chemical Plant Wreck

LUDWIGSHAFEN, Germany (AP)—Dying flames today permitted rescue workers and investigators to approach the centre of the I. G. Farben chemical plant, where an explosion Wednesday took an estimated 300 lives.

The investigation into the cause of the blast took on new significance as the Russian-licensed press in Berlin flung charges that the plant was producing war materials illegally.

U.S., French and German rescue workers said some persons were still alive in the wreckage.

Mannheim police stood on their statement that 500 to 800 are missing and most of them are presumed dead. The U.S. army also had not changed its estimate that at least 300 were killed and 6,200 injured in Europe's greatest post-war disaster.

OUTPUT OF PLANT

Outwardly at least, the plant produced only industrial chemicals, pharmaceutical mixtures, dyes and similar products. But the Communist press in Berlin claimed the disaster was caused by illegal production of war materials.

The Russian-controlled National Zeitung, offering no proof, said that "under French trusteeship" the plant was producing explosives for rocket bombs.

Some persons who worked in the plant said they could not identify the products they were making.

The chain of blasts destroyed or damaged 18 buildings in the plant, which employed 22,000 workers. The devastation was so great that the cause may never be learned.

Late Wednesday night new explosions boomed in the flaming wreckage of the plant, imperiling rescue squads trying to save trapped workers. Shortly before midnight flames still raged over a half-mile square area.

U.S. and French soldiers with German firemen and police plunged into the blazing inferno to save trapped workers.

SUFFER FROM FUMES

Strong fumes from burning chemicals sent survivors reeling about the streets like blind men.

The blast and resultant fire, which spewed flames and smoke miles into the air, came just 15 minutes before the workers would have gone home for the day. Clocks for miles around were stopped by the concussion at 3:45 p.m.

U.S. Probes Use Of Weather As Secret Military Weapon

By ELETON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is exploring the possibility of using the weather as a military weapon.

Secrecy as deep as that surrounding the atom bomb and germ warfare development cloaks these studies of "meteorological warfare."

However, a recent paper published in London by the International Committee for study of European questions mentioned military developments of various powers and had this to say of the United States:

"She . . . has got well ahead with her studies of bacteriological warfare and meteorological warfare. The latter is likely to become the most destructive of all."

Applicants Absent; Request Refused

PORT ALBERNI—Application of the twin cities' councils for exemption of this municipal area in so far as public utilities licenses for transportation and freight are concerned has been turned down by W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the P.U.C. The councils failed to be represented here Wednesday at a public hearing requested by the councils.

Present were 50 persons including commission and staff, representatives districts transportation and freight firms, and a representative of the Automotive Transport Association of B.C.

"One would expect responsible action from responsible bodies," Dr. Carrothers said, refusing the application. He turned the meeting into a conference to hear problems the local firms might have.

During the meeting representatives of the Alberni Valley Transit Co., Alberni District Truckmen's Association and United Cabs Association, declared themselves against exemption of the area from P.U.C. licensing. Several independent cab owners voiced approval of the exemption, claiming virtual monopolies existed and that they must turn away business because they had no plates authorizing them to do business across city boundary lines. Complaints of the independent cabmen were noted for consideration.

Mayor L. K. Jordan, appearing late in the meeting, told the commission the cities considered the problem was one for the commission to settle. He said the cities had experienced trouble on the question and they wanted an impartial investigation.

Biggest Tuna Catch Yet By B.C. Boats

VANCOUVER (CP)—Four tuna boats chalked up sales totaling 18,000 pounds today, marking the largest British Columbia tuna catch this season.

The "chicken of the sea" brought the record price of $630 per ton.

Another five to 10 tons were reported landed at Victoria overnight.

Single catches are reputedly running as high as 7,000 pounds, and tuna boats are grossing as high as $2,200 for two weeks' fishing.

B.C. To Oppose Increase In Freight Rates Stiffly

The railways' application for another 20 per cent increase in freight rates will face stiff opposition from the B.C. government.

Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer said in Vancouver: "We will oppose the application outright!"

The government will fight the increase on the grounds that the 21 per cent increase, granted in March, was made on a wrong basis, the attorney-general said, adding:

"Our appeal to the federal cabinet against the last increase must be settled before they make any other increases."

Mr. Wismer thought the statement from the railways that they propose to submit a plan to equalize freight rates might mean removal of the mountain differential.

"That's construing the statement broadly. I don't know how far the railways' proposal goes. We must wait and see."

H. T. Mitchell, president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, Wednesday, said the application "is final proof that a basic overhaul of the freight structure is urgently necessary."

"The Board of Transport Commissioners should wipe out the mountain differential at once before any other rate changes are made in Canada," he said.

The differential is a 25 per cent additional rate imposed on a considerable amount of British Columbia freight traffic.

The railways' application came as provincial representatives protested the 21 per cent increase granted earlier.

The provinces, all except Ontario and Quebec, converged on the capital last week and joined in an appeal to the federal cabinet against the increase granted last March.

9 Farben Directors Convicted Of Looting In Invaded Countries

NUERNBERG (AP)—A United States military tribunal today acquitted 24 directors of the giant I. G. Farben Chemical combine of plotting and waging aggressive war, but convicted nine of them of looting in countries overrun by Hitler's Nazis.

The sprawling Farben plant at Ludwigshafen, death trap for probably 300 or more Germans in Wednesday's mammoth explosion, lay in ruins as the court decided the fate of the men who directed Farben, symbol of Nazi Germany's industrial might.

Findings on two more counts, involving crimes against humanity, will be dealt with tomorrow. Sentences will be imposed at that time.

The court found the blame for plotting and waging war lay clearly with the politicians and the militarists of Hitler's Third Reich.

The opinion, delivered after an 11-month trial, dealt with five counts against Farben's board of directors.

The count on spoliation and plunder of occupied countries was simply proved, the judgment said, against directors Hermann Schmitz, Georg von Schnitzler, Fritz Ter Meer, Ernest Burger, Heinrich Buettelisch, Paul Harf-liger, Max Ilgner, Friedrich Janne, Heinrich Oster and Hans Kugler.

Saskatchewan Folk Enjoy Gala Picnic, 1,000 At Park

The friendly spirit of prairie folk was very much in evidence at Mount Douglas Park, Wednesday afternoon, when 1,000 men, women and children, gathered for the 11th. annual picnic of the Saskatchewan Association of Greater Victoria.

"The day couldn't have been better," said the picnicers as they sat and chatted under sunny skies or took part in the many races.

There were events for all ages and novelty races amused the spectators as much as they did the participants. Basket lunches were brought and free ice cream was provided for the children.

The day was free of any speeches as the association likes "to keep away from that sort of thing," according to John E. Cooper, president, who conducted the children's races. Special buses and private cars brought the picnicers to and from the park.

Dragging operations to date have been unsuccessful for the body of Thomas Gardiner, 68, of Mill Bay, in waters surrounding a log boom area in the bay, according to Constable Robert Ross, Shawnigan Lake B.C. Police, today.

Bicycle of Mr. Gardiner, missing since Sunday morning, was found leaning against a tree by the roadside opposite the booms and his hat was found on the logs.

It is believed Mr. Gardiner fell in and was drowned. Police are of the opinion the body is somewhere under the logs. One boom was moved Tuesday by tug but dragging brought no results. It is thought the body will be recovered when the entire log mass is removed to the mill.

Cpl. F. L. Jeeves, Duncan B.C. alarm. Dragging in waters adjacent to the boom will be continued in connection with the search, it proved to be a false lead yesterday in connection with the search.

TODAY many sections of the country are seriously affected by shortages of electrical power.

But this situation is being remedied. Vast new power projects are now being developed—through the investment of life insurance funds.

You see, part of every dollar that you put into life insurance is invested in government, public utility and industrial bonds. And millions of these life insurance dollars are helping to pay for new electrical power plants throughout the Dominion.

When they are completed, there will be power enough for all our homes, farms and industries in future years.

Thus your life insurance serves a double purpose. It provides financial protection for your family. And it helps raise the living standards of the nation!

Interior Of Car Gutted By Fire

Interior of a 1938 Ford V-8 sedan owned by J. E. Talbot, 3540 Richmond Avenue, was gutted by fire around 4 this morning, Saanich Fire Department officials report.

Department attended at 4:06 in response to an alarm and found the car parked in the driveway close to the house. Flames from the vehicle threatened the house. Firemen put out the blaze, origin of which is not known.

An old model car owned by J. L. Painter, 4220 Shelbourne Street, sustained damaged wiring by a fire which broke out at 7:40 this morning. When the fire department arrived the fire was out.

Interesting Films At Park Tonight

The second in a series of movies open to the public at the new Beacon Hill Park pavilion will be shown tonight at 9:15 with an interesting program for young and old arranged by the Victoria Film Council.

Scenes of a camping trip in Banff National Park are featured in the first film, "Family Outing." A film trip through Banff and Jasper National Parks is offered Victorians in the next reel, entitled "You'll Take the High Road."

An interesting color film, "People of the Potlatch," reconstructs the old fishing, hunting and feasting traditions of the Indians.

"Winter Sports" will prove entertaining to the sports-minded. This film features bob-sledding, skiing, harness racing on ice and ski-joring.

And just to send everyone home in a gay mood, the final National Film Board presentation will be a screen-led community sing.

Alberta Government Accused Of Deceiving People Of Province

EDMONTON (CP)—The Independent movement—official opposition in Alberta's last Legislature—has produced a capsule platform for the Aug. 17 provincial election campaign.

J. Percy Page, Independent leader and for 36 years principal of Edmonton's McDougall Commercial High School, said in a broadcast Wednesday that the primary object of his party's platform is the welfare of the people

“it places your interests before those of any political group.”

In other campaign speeches, a Liberal speaker accused the government of “going to expensive lengths to deceive the people,” and C.C.F. leader Elmer Roper assailed the Social Credit government's oil development program.

TO ADD DETAILS

Mr. Page, saying his platform would be detailed as the campaign progressed, added that platforms usually were “hurriedly thrown together just before an election.” They were “promises that cannot possibly be implemented—as, for instance, the promise of greater services to the public at a decreased cost to the taxpayers.”

“The Independents have consistently refused to be a party to any such type of vote catching and... it has at least retained for us the respect of the electorate,” he said.

Owen R. Browne, public relations director for the Alberta Liberal Association, in a free-time speech over the CBC, said Alberta is “governed by a group of men who advocate an economic nonsense which has proved itself unacceptable to all thinking people.”

They had resorted to “political expediency to explain away” their failure to implement an original program of “tax abolition and monthly dividends of $25 to citizens,” Mr. Browne said.

CARRY APPEALS

The government's insistence on entering fields in which it had no right, then appealing to the Privy Council in London, was “expensive lengths to deceive the people who are its support.”

Anyway, he said, “the big vote the Social Crediters obtained in 1944 was not so much evidence of a desire for Social Credit as it was a fear of the C.C.F.”

C.C.F. Leader Roper said in a speech at Delburne that a C.C.F. government would reserve for, or restore to public ownership, half of Alberta's oil lands, and would produce under the same auspices in every proven field.

“Instead of the comparative pittance which is now obtained from oil where the corporations get the major return, a C.C.F. government would have many millions of dollars to improve social service and taxes,” he added.

3 Die In Portland Train-Auto Crash

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—An automobile-train collision near Gervais killed three persons Wednesday night.

The victims, occupants of the automobile, were: Robert V. Pilcher, 40, Woodburn, the driver, and Joyce and Jean Rentz, eight-year-old twin daughters of Mrs. Marie Rentz, Gervais.

The train, the Southern Pacific's northbound Klamath, was delayed 20 minutes while wreckage was cleared away.

Learning Is Key To Child Rearing, Says Toronto Man

Learning, not heredity, is the key to the proper raising of children, parents were told at Victoria High School Wednesday night by Dr. W. E. Blatz, director of the Toronto Institute of Child Study.

Dr. Blatz was addressing a public meeting sponsored by the Nursery School Association of Victoria. His topic was entitled, “How to Get Along with Your Children.”

Children feel secure because their parents take the responsibilities and consequences of their actions, the Toronto man, currently teaching at the Summer School in Vancouver, told his audience.

This dependent security, as he termed it, leads to a condition where a child, by the time he reached maturity, is able to face life's problems alone and will not try to avoid issues and their consequences. All this, according to Dr. Blatz, is contingent upon parents carrying out their job suitably.

When children realize in their teens that the Gibraltar-life influence which parents appear to possess in the eyes of their offspring is not perfect, they must turn to other interests Dr. Blatz designated as “mature agents.”

He cited a philosophy of life, including a religious dogma, and interest in activities and friends outside the family as examples of such agents.

An effective public school system that directs the child toward the acceptance of more responsibility and compulsory parent education on child-rearing were suggested by Dr. Blatz as aids in bringing up children.

SERVICE

Service is a very comprehensive term and is made up of many factors, most of them intangible. In a store it very simply resolves itself into a liking for people, a desire to do your job well and to have on hand at all times a range of merchandise which will fill every reasonable need. Combine all this with courtesy, speed and accuracy, and of course business integrity, and you have something which nearly fulfills the meaning of the word service.

Free Vacation In Film Competition

The Plaza Theatre, in connection with the showing of J. Arthur Rank's stirring picture "Holiday Camp," is giving away a free one-week vacation for two persons at Tebunseh Lodge, it was announced yesterday by the management.

Other prizes include a free admission to the Plaza Theatre Friday night when the winner will see "Holiday Camp," an evening at the Club Sirocco where the winner and a friend will rule as "king and queen" for the night, and free transportation to and from these locations supplied by a local taxi cab firm.

To enter the contest, Victorians are asked to write a 200-word letter—describing a vacation or camping experience. All entries must be at the Plaza Theatre by Friday of this week.

"Holiday Camp" is the story of the Butlin Vacation Camps, which are now located throughout England, and are popular to residents and tourists alike.

Richard Butlin, founder of these camps, is a former Victoria tourist camp owner.

'Holiday Camp' Plaza Feature

"Holiday Camp," now being shown at the Plaza Theatre, marks the beginning of a new vogue in film entertainment. This is a story from the front page, a film based on topical experience. Producer Sydney Box, head of Gainsborough Pictures, secured this original story by Godfrey Winn about Britain's most popular holiday habit.

The action of the film is set against the ever-moving background of a vast modern holiday camp on the east coast. The cameras never move outside the camp, save to witness the arrival of the campers and to record their departure. The film traces the widely varying experiences of an assorted group of holiday-makers. Each of these people has something interesting in his or her life which takes us into the confidence of the character and helps us to see the solution to their individual problems. As a whole, this vast and moving canvas forms an intriguing, composite plot.

DOMINION THEATRE

Carol Baye and Jack Billings staged a marathon dance for one of the final sequences on British National's new musical "Spring Song," now at the Dominion Theatre. "The dance" was filmed over four days and during that time the pair danced their way through four different sets, with at least 30 different camera "set-ups" and switched through almost every kind of dance from tap to soft shoe to tango, acrobatic, waltz, symphonic and ballet changing costumes three times as the dance proceeded.

The number, written by Hans May is called "Give Me a Chance to Dance."

ATLAS THEATRE

Eddie Cantor, whose five daughters as a topic have provided him with a wealth of comedy material for his air show, acquires a son in his new starring vehicle, RKO Radio's "If You Knew Susie," in which he co-stars with Joan Davis at the Atlas Theatre.

After extensive tests of leading juvenile players, Bobby Driscoll won the role. Bobby made a sensational hit in the Walt Disney production in technicolor "Song of the South."
